Career Discovery for Professionals

Do you want to find a fulfilling career that you enjoy? Jody Michael Associates' "What Do You Want To Be When You Grow Up?" is a comprehensive, individualized career discovery process. This process focuses in on your talents, interests and values to identify your best career fit. Make an investment in your future success and happiness by addressing the stress and anxiety related to being in the wrong career.

We've had career discovery clients from a wide variety of industries ranging in age from 16 to 82 years old. Nearly everyone completes the process in 14-16 sessions. The length of the program varies from person to person. There is no way to tell where you will fall in this range as the length depends on many factors, and many of those are dependent on you. At the very end of the process we synthesize all the data you have given us into your best career fit(s).

The cost is $4,750 due up front. Please ask about our payment plan options.

THE PROGRAM INCLUDES:

- Four initial interview sessions to discuss your unique talents, challenges and background
- Ten to twelve one-on-one coaching sessions to guide you through our individualized career discovery process, developed and delivered exclusively by our career experts*
- Full-day aptitude testing in downtown Chicago by world-renowned research foundation
- One-hour debriefing of aptitude test results
- Comprehensive questionnaires for you to complete to help us gather additional crucial information
- In-session exercises and weekly homework assignments to help you gain clarity around the factors that contribute to your best career alignment
- Unlimited, 24-hour access to the JMA Career Exploration Center (by appointment)
- In-depth analysis of your career choices
- Identification of your best career fit(s)

ADDITIONAL CAREER COACHING SERVICES ARE AVAILABLE TO HELP YOU:

After you go through the "What Do You Want To Be When You Grow Up?" process, many clients choose to stay for "Now What?" coaching. We offer the following supportive services:

- Interview coaching
- Resume rewrites
- Personal brand coaching
- Informational interview coaching and potential introductions
- Career strategy coaching
- Political navigation coaching

If your best fit career choice requires that you go back to school, we also offer coaching to:

- Select the right school, classes and internships for your future career.
- Compose compelling application essays.
- Create a professional, well-written resume to stand out among the competition.
- Dramatically improve your interviewing skills to secure your ideal internship or job.

DISCOVER THE RIGHT CAREER FOR YOU.
